OUR STORY BEFORE LILLI BECAME A BEAUTIFUL

nothing else but a sad story. But her life didn't end up in melancholy.

Luckily for us, we found her on an internet auction on Trade Me. So, we took quick drive to moment in time. Seeing Lilli for the first time filled us with true inspiration. I know it's clicke t say but it really was a case of love at first sight!

From there she got gutted and transformed. It was no easy feat. So much hard work and swea have gone into refurbishing her, in fact, more than you can imagine.

Heating & Heat Recovery Ventilation Excellence

We specialise in clean and renewable electric energy. Using the latest technology makes electrical energy unequal in renewables and operational savings.

Modern buildings don't need as much heating as one would think... but cooling is!

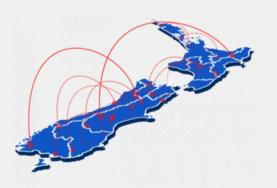

Building design and budgets are individual and a mix and match product approach is appropriate, pragmatic and cost effective.

It is 'essential' to ventilate your building for your health and to maintain your interior building investment (Saves cleaning!). Heat Recovery Ventilation for modern airtight buildings should be a prerequisite. Ask us about our Heat Recovery Ventilation with inline cooling and heating.

We have qualified trade nationwide installation. Direct DIY supply is available or at selected Electrical Wholesalers. We welcome new Trade accounts.

How I Can Help With Your Funding Needs

As a respected and unique mortgage adviser, I am here to help you with your non bank / bridging finance needs anywhere in NEW ZEALAND. The current financial climate has made funding for short to medium term projects more difficult to obtain. Even simple bridging finance, where you can demonstrate little risk to the lender, has become less available.

The main banks are still taking a very conservative approach towards bridging finance scenarios also, particularly where there is no guarantee of repayment. Fortunately there are simple bridging finance options available to those who have good equity in their property. Often interest payments can be built into the loan to allow a comfortable bridging finance period until repayment of the loan can be achieved, generally from a sale of another property or asset, some people just need time to get their finances in order to get back to a mainstream bank.

Development finance is even harder to obtain these days as many lenders have had bad experiences with supply chain issues, lockdown delays etc, some finance companies are simply saying "no" to any lending proposal involving a construction element at present.

Fortunately, there are still a handful of very good options for development finance that are not necessarily accessible to the typical mortgage adviser.

Since leaving my career at the National Bank and establishing Ian Woods Mortgages over 22 years ago, I have built strong relationships with a large group of lenders, both private individuals and finance companies, who are still very much ready and willing to offer property funding, short to medium term, secured by good quality real estate in New Zealand.

I offer a fast approval process and individual attention; you will be professionally catered for in total confidentiality. This is what I truly believe separates me from the rest as an experienced mortgage adviser in Auckland.

Need more information? Visit my case studies page for more details. Ready to have a casual, confidential chat about your requirements? Call me today on 021 828 240.

Ian Woods.
